

Erosion and Sediment Control for Stream Restoration in the US

Darrell Westmoreland, North State Environmental Inc.

This paper provides an overview of erosion and sediment control practices for stream restoration in the US. It will cover the following

- How practices/requirements vary by state
- Traditional practices
- Innovative new practices
- Pump arounds vs. working in the wet
- The benefits of working in the wet
- Cost & benefits of different E&SC practices